Manifestation / Brain Optimization Niche

(Copy and paste this into ChatGPT or other AI)

🧠 STEP 1: Add your product info below

Paste 4–5 short sentences about your offer underneath this line before running the prompt:

🧠 STEP 2: Run this prompt below your product info:

🎯 Your task:

Write a compliant, curiosity-driven YouTube ad script for a brain enhancement or manifestation offer. Use the structure below and follow all compliance and tone guidelines.

🎬 Structure:

1. Qualify the Audience / Open Loop
   Ask a question about why typical manifestation techniques don't work.
   Dispel a belief (e.g., "It's not just about positive thinking").
   Tease a new method based on real science or internal reprogramming.
2. What's in It for Them
   Explain what this method may unlock — clarity, motivation, or focus.
   Describe the emotional transformation, not material outcomes.
3. Call Out Audience + Agitate
   Speak to people who've tried vision boards, affirmations, or journaling with no success.
   Empathize with their frustration.
4. Establish Authority + Mechanism
   Introduce the expert, researcher, or origin of the discovery.
   Briefly explain the mechanism (e.g., sound-based protocol, brainwave alignment).
5. Provide the Solution / New Opportunity
   Describe how this technique works — and how it differs from traditional methods.
6. Call to Action #1
   Direct viewers to watch a free video explaining how the method works.
7. Value Perception
   Show how past methods missed the deeper root of change.
   Emphasize simplicity and internal alignment.
8. Social Proof / Benefits
   Mention users or early adopters who've experienced calm, clarity, or improved focus.
   Use compliant language like "many report" or "early feedback suggests."
9. Call to Action #2 / Soft Urgency
   Encourage them to click now to see the presentation while it's still online.

✅ Guidelines:

- Use words like "may support", "could improve", "many people report".
- Never guarantee results, speed, wealth, or success.
- Avoid references to curing depression, trauma, anxiety, etc.
- Avoid phrases like "instantly attract," "manifest thousands," or "reprogram in 5 minutes".
- Stay science-backed and education-forward.
- Final CTA must direct to an educational resource, never a "buy now."

Word Count: 240–320 words

Tone: Scientific, thoughtful, curiosity-driven

Survival / Energy Independence Niche

(Copy and paste this into ChatGPT or other AI)

🧠 STEP 1: Add your product info below

Paste 4–5 short sentences about your offer underneath this line before running the prompt:

🧠 STEP 2: Run this prompt below your product info:

🎯 Your task:

Write a compliant YouTube ad script for a preparedness or alternative energy offer. Stick to the educational tone and use the direct response structure below.

🎬 Structure:

1. Qualify the Audience / Open Loop
   Ask: "What happens if the grid fails?"
   Dispel the belief that energy independence requires expensive solar tech.
   Tease a small, smart, DIY method.
2. What's in It for Them
   Share how the method may support self-reliance, reduce stress, or improve emergency readiness.
   Mention non-electric survival benefits where relevant.
3. Call Out Audience + Agitate
   Address homeowners, campers, preppers.
   Mention the fear of being unprepared or reliant on unstable infrastructure.
4. Establish Authority + Mechanism
   Introduce the creator — an engineer, off-grid expert, or inventor.
   Explain the simple mechanism (e.g., repurposed energy design, battery hack, off-grid system).
5. Provide the Solution / New Opportunity
   Explain how this system supports continuous power without complex installs.
6. Call to Action #1
   Direct them to an educational video that shows how it works.
7. Value Perception
   Compare to solar/gas generators — show cost, convenience, or speed advantages.
8. Social Proof / Benefits
   Share that many people are already using this for camping, emergency prep, or daily backup.
   Use phrases like "people are turning to this", or "early adopters say".
9. Call to Action #2 / Soft Urgency
   Reinforce that this free video may not be available forever — and it's worth seeing now.

✅ Guidelines:
- No claims of cutting power bills in half or "run your whole house."
- Use language like "many are turning to…" or "could provide backup support."
- Focus on learning, building, and personal readiness — not promises.
- Never suggest you'll survive every disaster — focus on peace of mind and preparedness skills.
- Tone should be practical, clear, and calm — not fear-mongering or doomsday.

Word Count: 240–320 words
Tone: Calm, empowering, education-focused

Woodworking / DIY Niche

(Copy and paste this into ChatGPT or other AI)

🧠 STEP 1: Add your product info below

Paste 4–5 short sentences about your offer underneath this line before running the prompt:

🧠 STEP 2: Run this prompt below your product info:

🎯 Your task:

Write a compliant, high-converting YouTube ad script for a woodworking or DIY offer. Follow the structure below, use the user-provided niche/mechanism/authority context, and keep the tone educational and empowering.

🎬 Structure:

1. Qualify the Audience / Open Loop
   Ask a curiosity-driven question related to woodworking struggles.
   Dispel a myth (e.g., "You need expensive tools").
   Introduce a little-known system that makes building easy and fun.
2. What's in It for Them
   Explain how this system simplifies building and helps users complete real, useful projects.
   Highlight benefits like confidence, cost savings, and creative satisfaction.
3. Call Out Audience + Agitate
   Address common frustrations: complex instructions, failed builds, wasted materials.
   Speak to beginners, hobbyists, or anyone who has felt stuck or overwhelmed.
4. Establish Authority + Mechanism
   Introduce the expert who created this system.
   Briefly explain the mechanism (e.g., easy-to-follow blueprints, project planner, material guides).
5. Provide the Solution / New Opportunity
   Show how this approach creates a completely different experience from trial-and-error learning.
6. Call to Action #1
   Invite viewers to watch a free step-by-step video or training to see how it works.
7. Value Perception
   Compare it to messy YouTube tutorials or expensive pro tools.
   Emphasize clarity, guidance, and accessibility.
8. Social Proof / Benefits
   Share that many people are already using this to create shelves, tables, benches, and more.
9. Call to Action #2 / Soft Urgency
   Encourage viewers to click now to watch the presentation while it's still available.

✅ Guidelines:
- Use soft language like "may help", "could support", "many people find".
- Avoid specific timeframes, guarantees, or financial claims.
- Do not reference "income," "results in X days," or "guaranteed success."
- Focus on personal development, creativity, and practical skill-building.
- Include expert or creator's credentials if provided.
- Keep the tone warm, clear, and educational — never hypey or salesy.
- Final CTA must focus on watching a free educational video — no hard sells.

Word Count: 240–320 words
Tone: Friendly, helpful, empowering

Universal Youtube Ad Script Generator (Any Niche)

(Copy and paste this into ChatGPT or other AI)

🧠 STEP 1: Add your product info below

Paste 4–5 short sentences about your offer underneath this line before running the prompt:

🧠 STEP 2: Run this prompt below your product info:

Write a compliant, curiosity-driven YouTube ad script for the provided offer. Follow this structure:

🎬 9-Part Structure:

1. Qualify the Audience / Open Loop
   Start with a question or bold statement about a common struggle in the niche.
   Dispel a myth or belief most people have.
   Tease a unique method or surprising discovery.
2. What's in It for Them
   Describe how this method may help — emotionally or practically.
   Show what users could experience if it works for them.
3. Call Out Audience + Agitate Pain Points
   Speak directly to the audience. Highlight daily frustrations or challenges.
   Make them feel understood.
4. Establish Authority + Mechanism
   Introduce the expert who discovered this method.
   Briefly explain the mechanism or process behind the results (without hype).
5. Provide the Solution / New Opportunity
   Explain how this method works and how it's different from what they've tried.
   Position it as a simple new opportunity.
6. Call to Action #1
   Tell them exactly what to do: watch the video, learn more, or discover how it works.
7. Value Perception
   Explain why past solutions didn't work.
   Highlight why this is easier, smarter, or more natural.
8. Social Proof / Benefits
   Mention how others are using it or how it's spreading quickly.
   Use soft language like "many report," "thousands are turning to…"
9. Call to Action #2 / Soft Urgency
   Reinforce the benefit of taking action now — and that the video or demo may not be up for long.

✅ Guidelines (Always Follow):
- Use soft, compliant phrasing: "may help," "could support," "many people find..."
- Do not use guarantees, specific timeframes, or outcome claims.
- Do not mention money, income, or health cures unless provided by compliant testimonial context.
- Always frame the offer as educational, valuable, and curiosity-driven.
- End with a clear, soft CTA inviting them to watch a free presentation or learn how it works.
- Must be 240–320 words.
- Tone: Educational, helpful, curiosity-driven, and emotionally engaging.
